

'AMBITIONS HAVE OVERTAKEN PARTY' Delhi minister Gahlot quits AAP

GAYATHRI MANI
New Delhi, November 17

IN A MAJOR setback for the ruling AAP ahead of the Delhi Assembly polls early next year, Home and Transport Minister Kailash Gahlot resigned Sunday from the primary membership of the party and the Council of Ministers, saying "political ambitions have overtaken our commitment towards people, leaving many promises unfulfilled".

Announcing his resignation on X and releasing a letter addressed to AAP chief and former Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal, Gahlot also referred to "embarrassing and awkward controversies" such as the one over the renovation of 'Sheesh Mahal', the residence of Kejriwal when he was CM.

Chief Minister Atishi has accepted Gahlot's resignation. Kejriwal did not answer questions on Gahlot's exit and his letter during a press conference where he was welcoming BJP's Anil Jha into Aam Aadmi Party.

With Gahlot's resignation, four MLAs, two of them ministers, have resigned from the AAP — the other three being Rajendra Pal Gautam, who joined the Congress in September, Patel Nagar and Chatrapur MLAs Raaj Kumar Anand and Kartar Singh Tanwar, who joined the BJP during the Lok Sabha polls.

In his letter to Kejriwal, Gahlot, elected twice from the Najafgarh seat, said that the party had moved from fighting for people's rights to fighting for its own political agenda.

He wrote that the party faces "grave challenges". "Political ambitions have overtaken our commitment towards people, leaving many promises unfulfilled. Take for example the Yamuna, which we had promised to transform into a clean river, but never got around to doing it. Now the Yamuna river is perhaps even more polluted than ever before."

With Gahlot's resignation, four MLAs, have resigned from the AAP

On the row over the renovation of the CM house in Civil Lines, he wrote: "Apart from this, now there are many embarrassing and awkward controversies like the 'Sheesh Mahal', which are now making everyone doubt whether we still believe in being the Aam Aadmi Party."

Both issues have been raised by the BJP several times to level allegations of corruption against AAP and its leaders.

Gahlot underlined "another painful point" that "instead of fighting for people's rights, we have increasingly only been fighting for our own political agenda."

"This has severely crippled our ability to even deliver basic services to the people of Delhi. It is now obvious that real progress for Delhi cannot happen if the Delhi Government spends the majority of its time fighting with the Centre," he stated.

FIR lodged after JMM, Congress complain to EC

ABHISHEK ANGAD & ASAD REHMAN
Ranchi, New Delhi, November 17

AHEAD OF THE second phase of Assembly elections in Jharkhand on November 20, police filed an FIR on directions from the state Chief Electoral Officer after allies JMM and Congress complained to the Election Commission against a video released by the BJP on social media that allegedly propagates a "false narrative" about a religious community.

The video shows a large group of members from a particular community reaching the house of a JMM supporter, and forcefully residing there. The video's caption reads, "Look carefully at how big a mistake a wrong vote can become. So don't make the same mistake this time as in 2019. Choose the right thing, choose BJP."

In the ongoing elections, the BJP has pitched infiltration and illegal settlers from Bangladesh as a major campaign theme in Jharkhand, with Prime Minister Narendra Modi as well as other top leaders raising the issue at their rallies.

The Indian Express that after the video came to their knowledge, the poll panel directed police to take action.

Zakaria hosts weekly programme GPS on CNN

AT A TIME when the US Presidential elections have given former President Donald Trump a second chance to govern the country and shape the world that is confronting challenges from a rising China, political analyst, bestselling author and CNN news host Fareed Zakaria will be the guest at Express Adda in Mumbai on Monday.

He will be in conversation with The Indian Express Group Executive Director Anant Goenka and Diplomatic Editor Shubhajit Roy.

In a world punctuated by conflict and chaos, Zakaria's prescient commentary on public affairs and insightful conversations with global newsmakers help make sense of the key disruptions in contemporary society by picking up threads across history and geography.

With the conflict in West Asia and Europe and a Trump administration firmly back in the seat of power, there is no one better than Zakaria to unpack the US elections and analyse what a second Trump term means for the wars in Ukraine and Gaza. And India's place in this changing world.

New York-based Zakaria, who has previously been a guest at Express Adda in January 2021, is the author of Age of Revolutions (2024), Ten Lessons For a Post-Pandemic World (2020), The Post-American World (2008) and The Future of Freedom (2007) among other books that blend

"Top 10 Global Thinker of the Last 10 Years" by Foreign Policy magazine in 2019, and Esquire called him "the most influential foreign policy adviser of his generation." In 2010, India awarded him the Padma Bhushan, one of its highest civilian honours, and in 2022, Ukraine's President Volodymyr Zelensky awarded him the Order of Merit.

Zakaria has a Bachelor degree from Yale University, a doctorate in political science from Harvard University, and has received numerous honorary degrees.

Express Adda is a series of informal interactions with newsmakers in the presence of a select audience. Guests have included Nobel Laureate Amartya Sen, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, His Holiness the Dalai Lama, actors Pankaj Tripathi and Tabu, oncologist and writer Siddhartha Mukherjee, musician T M Krishna, ecologist Romulus Whitaker and writer William Dalrymple.

Manipur: NPP quits NDA camp

JIMMY LEIVON & SUKRITA BARUAH & DEEPTIMA TIWARY
Imphal, New Delhi, November 17

THE CRISIS in Manipur took another turn Sunday with Congress' National People's Party (NPP), the second-largest party with seven MLAs in the BJP-led state government, withdrawing its support to the ruling alliance citing its failure to "restore normalcy" and expressing "deep concern".

The move does not pose an immediate threat to the government led by Chief Minister N Biren Singh with the BJP holding a comfortable majority with 37 MLAs of its own in the 60-member Assembly. But the pullout of a key local ally represents a political setback, signalling further erosion in support on the ground for Biren Singh's administration.

An NPP MLA said: "The state government is already at odds with seven BJP Kuki MLAs..."

Meanwhile, Home Minister Amit Shah cancelled his political programmes in Maharashtra to monitor the situation in Manipur. Sources said Shah held a review meeting with senior security officials with another meeting scheduled on Monday.

Parties in Maha face challenge

VANDITA MISHRA
Nagpur, November 17

AS THE CAMPAIGN ends in Maharashtra, and voters get ready to choose, all political parties face a sharp and shared challenge, regardless of who loses and who wins.

In the first Assembly election held after the "tod phod" (splitting parties), which took the main contenders from four to six, rearranged traditional alliances beyond recognition by bringing together unlikely partners, and in which the sheer number of candidates has touched new highs in several constituencies, many voters in Maharashtra this time appear unwilling to suspend disbelief.

They speak of a "dividation" on the rise, and of the growing irrelevance of "paksh" or party. Voter distrust of party politics seems to have a new edge. This erosion of trust will arguably influence the outcome of this election — but in a party-led representative democracy, it is also a warning bell in the long term that all political parties must heed.

In a journey through Vidarbha's Nagpur, Bhandara, Gondia, Wardha, Amravati, Akola and Buldhana districts — including some of the most backward areas in a state of glaring regional inequalities — The Indian Express found that voter disillusion with parties and the resulting focus on candidates is making election choices more difficult to predict. Whether the localisation works for Congress and the alliance it leads, the Maha Vikas Aghadi, or for the BJP and its alliance, the Mahayuti — that is the question.

Outside a chai shop in village Bibi in Buldhana district, voters talk about the two issues that dominate conversations in Vidarbha — and also about why they won't influence their choice in this election. One, the declining "bhaav" (price) of crops, mainly soybean and cotton, selling far below MSP amid "mehengai" or rising prices of farm inputs like fertiliser and labour and essential commodities like petrol, diesel, cooking oil, gas cylinder, with "GST" thrown in as a swear word. Two, unemployment or "berozgari". Sarjerao Nagre, primary school teacher, says: "We gave Modi our vote in 2014 with a lot of expectation but we feel let down by decisions like demonetisation. I came back to the Congress in 2019... Earlier I would watch a Modi speech for a full hour, now I switch channels when he speaks."
